SRNS Shines on Awards Night at VPPPA Annual Conference

AIKEN, S.C. Sept. 10, 2015 – Savannah River Nuclear Solutions' (SRNS) Bobby Hill was recently selected a Voluntary Protection Program Participants Association (VPPPA) Safety and Health Achievement Award winner for exemplary work during Voluntary Protection Program (VPP) Recertification earlier this year.

Hill, who is a General Foreman for SRNS Union Painters and Project Management, and Construction Services (PMCS) Local Safety Improvement Team (LSIT) Chairman, was a key member of the core team responsible for SRNS' successful 2014 Department of Energy Headquarters VPP Recertification. Additionally, Hill was a breakout session presenter at the 2014 and 2015 National VPPPA Conferences.

“Bobby is a true safety leader, both on-and-off the clock,” said Dan Armstrong, Vice President, Project Management and Construction Services. “He personifies integrity and passion for safety, always going the extra mile. I am proud to call him a member of the SRNS team.”

Hill takes his commitment to safety excellence seriously, extending his passion off-the-job where he is actively involved in painters' apprenticeship training and many charitable events and public service projects.

The VPPPA offers a unique recognition of the association's members, which is a vital aspect in maintaining the momentum of employee involvement in a safe and healthy work environment. The VPP Programs could not be a success without workers, so the association created the award to recognize hourly and non-managerial workers who take the initiative to learn and apply safety and health best practices. Candidates are required to demonstrate their safety and health knowledge and training by completing the program criteria as well as a safety and health workbook that tests their familiarity with workplace safety and health requirements, accident investigations and VPP procedures and requirements.
